

Ferrari 360 Modena

The 360 Modena is Ferrari's mid-engine V8 sports car, offered in both coupe and spider versions. The first mid-engine V8 Ferrari was the 308 GTB which became one of the most popular Ferrari models of all time. The 308 was followed by the 348 for 1990 and the F355 for 1995. The 360 Modena replaced the F355 for 2000 and was lighter with a more rigid chassis through the use of aluminum for the chassis, body shell, and suspension components.
