

Suzuki GSXR 600

What's the best-selling sportbike in America? If you guessed the Suzuki GSX-R600, you're absolutely right. This mean middleweight weighs a mere 363 lbs dry, and boasts an engine that revs to an astronomical 16,000 rpm. The GSX-R600 as well receives a all-new lightweight flat-top piston for further perfect and efficient combustion. Straighter and steeper downdraft angle (49 levels from the cylinder shape top gasket surface) is another benefit of the skinny valve angle.
